

Friday 3rd October 2025

This week we have benefitted from our link with the Unicorn Theatre and The Globe. Year 2 saw an opening production of 'The Three Little Pigs' at the Unicorn Theatre, and you can read more about Year 5's visit to the Globe Theatre on page 2. Michael Morpurgo himself presented the class with a copy of his new book, 'More Tales from Shakespeare'.

Year 5

On Tuesday, Year 5 were very fortunate to be invited to the Michael Morpurgo: More Tales from Shakespeare Schools Event at the Globe Theatre. The children were completely captivated by the wonderful storytelling of the renowned author. Michael Morpurgo shared some of his favourite Shakespeare plays, first discovered when he was a schoolboy, and now beautifully retold in his latest book.

During the event, hosted by RSC actor Emma Manton, the children had the chance to reflect on what it means to be a good leader. Ahmednur thoughtfully said: "A good leader doesn't try to take other people's land. They help other countries instead, by being kind and sharing. A real leader wants everyone to be safe and happy and they work together with others like friends." At the end, Rayhana summed up everyone's excitement perfectly by giving the event an enthusiastic rating of "11 out of 10"! We are grateful to our parent-helper who came along to support us - you made the day even better!
